20th International Conference

18th-19th September 2026
St. George Campus - Lovere
Italy

Conference Host: Giovanni Barassi

Saint George Campus is a private formation institution accredited by the Lombardia Region.

It is located in Lovere, in the province of Bergamo, which arise on the shores of the amazing Iseo Lake.

The Campus covers an area of over 1,500 square metres divided into two floors, and is housed in a majestic and imposing neoclassical historic building from the 19th century, protected by the Superintendency of Fine Arts.

It offers its students and visitors the best of their educational experience in an extremely safe and natural environment.

Love, considered since 2003 among the most beautiful villages in Italy, is nestled in a splendid Alpine setting, it is a renowned sports centre frequented all year round by international visitors, both for summer sports activities, such as sailing, rowing, surfing, climbing, and for winter sports, skiing, alpine skiing, ice skating.

The village is located 41 km from Bergamo Orio al Serio Airport and 90 km from Milan Linate Airport, to which it is connected by a system of buses and trains or, alternatively, it can be easily reached by car driving through the splendid panorama of the Italian Prealps.

The Saint George Campus, as a formation institution dedicated to promoting innovative professional figures and therapeutic methods in the field of health, will make all its facilities available, starting with the 100-seat auditorium, to highlight the important activities of the AIP conference.

Prominent figures in pulmonology, biology, histology, infectious diseases, rehabilitation, and research at the national and international level will be invited to the event, to best honor the AIP's goal of exchanging scientific findings on the subject of pulmonology among European-level experts in a friendly atmosphere.
